SHERIFF CAUGHT IN A RAID

KAISER HELD FOR GAMBLING IN A JERSEY CITY SALOON.

Republican Boss Dickinson's County Chairman Nabbed by a Cop at 4 A. M. and Hauled Away in the Hurry Up Bus -Politics Back of It, He Declares

The hand of Sheriff John C. Kaiser of Rudson county, who is also chairman of the Republican county committee was the Second District police Jerser City, yesterday morning. It was a pair of jacks. Also a dollar brought into court by Policeman John Scheffmeyer, who interrupted a card game of some sort shortly after 4 o'clock in the morning at John Smith's saloon, 318 Communipaw avenue, which is directly across the street from the home of Sheriff Kaiser. Policeman Scheffmeyer says he raided the game on the complaint of a citizen who notified him that gambling was going on in Smith's. The cop declares that he had to take action, lest the citizen go to headquarters and prefer charges against him for neglect of duty. The friends of Sheriff Kaiser place an entirely different construction on the arrest and say it's all politics, and low down politics at that. Kaiser is a faithful lieutenant of Boss Sam Dickinson. Scheffmeyer is just a plain, ordinary cop. but all cops are supposed nowadays to be supporters of Mayor Mark Fagan, who doesn't pull with Boss Dickinson for a cent's

Aside from the question of the political significance of the arrest, there is another as to the character of the game that was being played. Kaiser and his fellow players sy it was pinochle. The policeman says it was poker, and if the evidence he picked up from the table counts for aught, Sheriff Kaiser and his friends may have trouble in explaining. First, asks the cop, what are chips doing in a pinochle game? Then, what kind of talk is "I'll raise you two bits' in a pinochle game? What kind of a neld did the Sheriff intended making with a isok of clubs, a jack of diamonds, a deuce of hearts, trey of spades and nine of dia-

Sheriff Kaiser says he had been about among his political constituents until a late hour and was headed for his home at so'clock in the morning. With the Sheriff was Thomas Simon of 64 Lafayette street. They decided, so the Sheriff says, to have nightcap at Smith's. That night cap jed to all the trouble.

Bartender Fullerton was playing pinochle so the Kaiser crowd assert, when the Sheriff and his friend entered. Somebody had to play the bartender's hand while he got the drinks. Who accommodated? Doesn't it seem natural that a high official and leader of the district should show his democratic make-up by volunteering? Of course. and the Sheriff did so. Just to be sociable homas Simon took a hand, too.

Everything went fine until the cop butted . The story that the policeman had acted on the complaint of a citizen is described as a "stall" by the Kaiserites. They say Scheffmeyer came in for a ball. There were some words. Scheffmeyer says that the Sheriff's greeting was, "What do intil they were hustled into the patro wagon.

It required some effort to get Sheriff kajser into the hurry up bus, for he resisted strenuosuly. He declared that no ordinary cop could arrest him—the highest official of the county. "You have no right to arrest me," said the Sheriff to Scheffmeyer. "Only the Coroner can arrest me." But the cops wouldn't argue the question. This hustling of the Sheriff into the "bull coach" may lead to something. The Sheriff says he was assaulted and declares he is going to get redress. The only redress he got yesterday was the change of attire that was necessary for him to make a respectable appearance in court.

Sheriff Kaiser was taken to the Communiway avenue police station, but the array so flustered the sergeant that he let the Sheriff go on his own recognizance and held the other two in $300 bail each, which was quickly furnished. When the case came up in court yester-day Judge Fred Stuhr, for the prisoners, moved for an immediate trial. Assistant moved for an immediate trial. Assistant Corporation Counse! Zeigener asked for two weeks in which to prepare his case. Justice of the Peace Miller finally agreed to the delay, and then Judge Stuhr announced that his clients would waive examination. This puts the case up to the Grand Jury that Sheriff Kaiser drew himself. This Grand Jury, by the way, was drawn in March, and it has proven so satisfactory that Sheriff Kaiser has decided to continue it until June. Then there won't be any Grand Jury until September. After conferring for some time with his layer yesterday the Sheriff made this statement:

'I have no statement to make at this I have no statement to make at this time, except to say that my arrest was unwarranted, an outrage, one that will have the effect of arousing the public to a full appreciation of the extremes my political enemies will go. This matter will not be allowed to rest here by any means, and by the time the whole matter is threshed. our somebody will reach the conclusion that they have bitten off a little more than they can comfortably masticate."

'Unwarranted?" said the cop last night.
'I want to know! When I steps into that saloon I hears some one say 'I'll bust.'
Then I hears another remark, 'Come once more for a quarter. Ain't that enough?"

Just who said he would "bust" is not clear in the policeman's mind, but in a poker court the presence of two jacks in a player's hand would be considered damag-life avidence.

The Sheriff is some pumpkins in Jersey.
The Governor can't fire him. To get rid of a Sheriff the Assembly has to draw up impeachment charges and the Senate has to vote on the matter. Kaiser gets $10,000 a year-that is, $10,000 is his salary.

POLICE CLUB STRIKERS:

Lively Encounter With Sugar Refinery Workmen-Five Arrests.

There was a conflict between the police refineries at Kent avenue and South Fourth street, Williamsburg, last night in which the cops used their clubs vigorously on the heads of the belligerents and routed them.

The strike was inaugurated on Monday by 350 mixers, platform men and laborers all foreigners, who demanded an increase of 3 cents an hour. The strikers succeeded yesterday in persuading more than 1,000 other employees to join them and they openly declared that unless their demands were complied with they would shut down the refineries for an indefinite period.

Yesterday the sugar refinery officials put a large force of Italians to work. These were brought to the refineries in lighters. In expectation of trouble last evening the police force was doubled. As dozens of the new hands left the refineries on their way home and reached Kent avenue and South Fourth street they were attacked by the strikers, many of whom had wrenches and other weapons.

When the trouble started the police made then a desperate When the trouble started the police made a rush for the men and then a desperate encounter ensued. The strikers fought fiercely and even though the police used their clubs vigorously the strikers held their ground. It was said that fully thirty men were badly clubbed and were seen limping away from the scene. Somebody telephoned to Police Headquarters and twenty more cops were hustled out from the Bedford avenue station. When the reenforcements reached the scene the policemen had the situation well in hand and had five men under arrest. One was and had five men under arrest. One was charged with attempted felonious assault and the others with disorderly conduct. There is likely to be a repetition of the trouble this morning when the night shift trouble this morning when the night shift quits work.

The police clashed with the strikers again last night when 1,500 strikers and their friends had a meeting in Palace Rink, at 91 Grand street. Capt. Creamer of the Bedford avenue station had been warned that there might be trouble and had his reserves handy. When one of the speakers, John Coben of 28 Monroe etreet, Manhattan, cried, "Down with capitalists! Down with the police!" the cry was quickly taken up by others in the hall.

Capt. Creamer then jumped upon the platform and ordered his men to clear the hall. They had to use their clubs vigorously in doing so. Cohen was locked up for inciting a riot.

TRAIN ROBBERS KILL ENGINEER

SHOOT FIREMAN'AND FLEE WITH NO BOOTY-ONE CAUGHT.

North Coast Limited on the Northern Paetfie Held Up Near Butte, Mon.—Hundreds of Armed Men Scouring the Country for Two Men Who Escaped. BUTTE, Mon., May 7.-In an attempt to hold up the North Coast Limited train of the Northern Pacific, near Welch Spur, fifteen miles east of Butte, at about 3 o'clock this morning two masked robbers shot and killed Engineer James Clow and seriously wounded Fireman James Sullivan. Evidently becoming alarmed at the result of their work the robbers jumped off the moving train, left their bag of dynamite and escaped. Hundreds of armed men are searching the hills for the robbers, whose trail has been followed for several miles in the direction of Butte, where it became lost in the rough country. Three men are thought to have taken part in the attempted robbery and one suspect was captured and brought to Butte to-night. He refuses to give his name. He is only 18 years old and is evidently a hobo. His story is that he was stealing a ride on the tender of the engine. A few miles east of Butte, when the train changed engines, he says, he got off and met two men with a telephone valise. The three got on a train as it moved away and hid between the tender and baggage car, placing the value on the tender. Approaching a tunnel eight miles east of Butte, he says, the two men told him to the dust out and the three then masked.

They took several drinks of whiskey from a flask belonging to one of the robbers, who then told him that they intended to hold up the train and invited him to join them, which he refused to do.

They then threatened to kill him, but compromised by giving him a dollar to remain quiet while they climbed forward over the tender into the engine cab.

Fireman Sullivan says the train was making good time down the mountain on the east side, Engineer Clow having his hand on the air brake, when both heard the command. Throw up your hands! and two men appeared near them on the tender. Sullivan obeyed. Clow still had his hand on the brake, not having had time to obey the command, when a shot was fired and Clow fell to the bottom of the cab.

In falling he shut off the air and the train slowed up. A second shot was fired and went through Sullivan's right wrist. He, too, fell to the floor and one of the robbers fired two more shots at him, both missing. The men then left the train and ran north in the direction of Butte.

Conductor Burt Culver jumped off the train as soon as it slowed up and saw the two robbers run away, but they fired several shots at him and he did not pursue them.

Sheriff Webb of Yellowstone county chanced to be on the train and he placed the hobo under arrest, and immediately sent word to Homestake for help. New York Teacher Gets Final Judgment Against Estate of Man She Nursed.

CINCINNATI, May 7 .- By final judgment, in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here to-day Miss Mary Steele, teacher in the public schools of New York city gets $27,000 from the estate of the late Col. John M. Wilson.

Wilson was an inspector in the New York custom house when, in 1899, he became acquainted with Miss Steele. He succeeded in winning her affections, though much her in winning her anections, though much her senior, and they became engaged. Their marriage was deferred till Miss Steele could qualify for a teacher's life certificate by teaching the time required. In the meantime, at Col. Wilson's request, Miss Steele consented to attend him as nurse, and in return he offered to settle $25,000 on her or if he died before they married to leave that amount to her by will.

He died suddenly while on a visit to this city on December 10, 1901. His entire estate of $70,000 was found to be willed to his sister, Mrs. B. F. Miller of this city. The will contained no mention of Miss Steele. The latter sued for the money, and her counsel, former Senator Lexow of New York, obtained a verdict in the United States Court for the whole amount with interest from the time Miss Steele consented to attend him as nurse amount with interest from the time of Wilson's death.

On the witness stand, Mrs. Miller had to admit that Coi. Wilson at the time of his death had directed that Miss Steele should be compensated and Mrs. Miller had complied only to the extent of sending her $2,000. The case was long and bitterly fought at all stages, but Miss Steele's victory is com-plete. The judgment for her is now drawing interest at the rate of $160 a month

SAYS OIL TRUST IS A SCAPEGOAT

Standard's Attorney Says Administration Has Singled It Out for Attack. CHICAGO, May 7 .- The Standard Oil Com-

any has been made the scapegoat for the Department of Justice, according to Attorney Moritz Rosenthal in an argument for a new trial before Judge Keneshaw M. Landis to-day. Its prosecution is a part of a gigantic scheme of the Administration to evade the odium of failure in the packing investigation, the attorney said. Mr. Rosenth al declared the company had been selected as an example, that the prosebeen selected as an example, that the prose-cution had been "forced," that the company was made the subject of a record breaking indictment, merely because it was the off-company, and that its name had been the only warrant for legal "conjuring." In his plea for a reduction of the number of counts to one, the oil company's attorney said the court was not warranted in imposing anything more than a modest fine and said the court was not warranted in imposing anything more than a modest fine and should not regard the public clamor against the monopoly. He intimated that the court would exceed its responsibility in imposing the maximum fine of $29,000,000.

In the conclusion of his plea for a new trial and a reduction of the counts in the indictment, so that the maximum fine could in the counts in the c be only $20,000, Attorney Rosenthal said in part:

"Why are there so many counts in this indictment? What does all the vigor of prosecution on the part of the Administration mean? Under this administration the big corporations have been singled out for prosecution. The New York Central was fined the maximum of $150,000 and the sugar trust fell victim to the plan. Then the Government came to Chicago and singled out the Standard Oil Company for accepting rebates—not the railroad company giving them. If we are guilty the Chicago and Alten is infinitely more guilty, and it is not even indicted. This is the first time in history that so extraordinary an indictment has been obtained."

Attorney John S. Miller followed with a short statement and the arguments for a new trial ended. Judge Landis will give his decision on the motion in a few days.
